RightsStatements.org: Technical Implementation

Mark A. Matienzo
Digital Public Library of America
DPLA Data Day, DLF Forum, 28 Oct 2015
Guidelines for design

- Rights statements under development are not licenses; try to reflect that in implementation
- Develop as an RDF vocabulary for broad reuse, following best practices on publication
- Considerations of extensibility
- Provide implementation guidelines for aggregators (e.g. DPLA and Europeana) and their partners
Data model

- All statements are modeled as both skos:Concepts and dct:RightsStatements
- Allows for interoperability with other frameworks for rights
Vocabulary reuse

NoC-OKLR No Copyright - Other Known Legal Restrictions

Use of this item is not restricted by copyright and/or related rights.

In one or more jurisdictions, laws other than copyright are known to impose restrictions on the use of this item.

Please refer to the organization that has made the item available for more information.

More information about the legal restrictions can be found here: http://example.net/zzzzzz

Notices

- Unless expressly stated otherwise, the organization that has made this item available makes no warranties about the item and cannot guarantee the accuracy of this rights statement. You are responsible for your own use.
- You may need to obtain other permissions for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy or moral rights may limit how you may use the material.
- You may find additional information about the copyright status of the item on the website of the organization that has made the item available.

Guidelines for implementers

This rights statement should be used for items that are in the public domain but that cannot be freely re-used as the consequence of known legal restrictions that prevent the data provider from allowing free re-use of the work, such as cultural heritage or traditional cultural expression protections. In order for this rights statement to be conclusive, the data provider must provide a link to a page detailing the legal restrictions that limit re-use of the item.

Mapping to statements

<th>Name of Rights Statement</th>
<th>URI for Rights Statement</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>dc:identifier</td>
<td>skos:prefLabel</td>

</table>

One sentence description of the Rights Statement. This will not be displayed as part of the Rights Statement. Intended for use in documents or on websites describing the Rights Statements.

not mapped

Text of the Rights Statement

skos:definition

Notices: One or more notices related to the Rights Statement

skos:note

Disclaimer regarding this being a Rights Statement and not a legally operative License summary.

not mapped

Generic selection criteria for the Rights Statement. Short text that describes when this Rights Statement should be used, aimed primarily at data providers. This text will not be displayed as parts of the Rights Statement.

skos:scopeNote

Extra metadata not mapped

For some statements it is possible to provide additional metadata which triggers the display of optional information at the text of the Rights Statement (and above the notices). If this is the case this will be noted here. Specific behavior is specified by keywords in bold as described by RFC2119.34

Our infrastructure

- RFP to develop infrastructure for site in final selection phase
- Developing web application to host rights statements vocabulary following linked data best practices
- Designed to provide guidance and direction to make easy for both humans and machines to “follow their noses” for more information
Use in a local context

- Rights statement URIs, with version numbers, should be used whenever the rights statements are applied.
- Can optionally include URIs for human-readable representations.
